G.O.P. Party Split Is Avoided With Tickle Withdrawal

By Donald Petersen
(Special Representative for the Pine Cone)

At a Republican Central Committee Meeting in Salinas Tuesday night, Ex-Senator Edward H. Tickle withdrew his name as a candidate for the State Senate post, which is to be filled by special election, May 3.

Chairman Corum Jackson then announced that James Silliman was the Monterey County Republican Central Committee candidate for the State Senate.

Tickle withdrew "for one reason and one reason only, to keep harmony and to serve the Republican Party".

The members of the Monterey County Republican Central Committee were a few minutes late arriving from a dinner held prior to the meeting. A crowd of about 70 spectators were waiting for whatever might take place.

Following the opening of the meeting and the calling of the roll, the minutes of the previous meeting were read. In them was the following statement: "That the meeting be adjourned until the next Monday, in order to give Senator Tickle one more week to make a decision". Since Senator Tickle was seated in the first row of the spectators' section, the chairman, Corum Jackson, looked toward him and stated that since the previous meeting had been adjourned in order for Senator Tickle to reach a decision, and since the week was up, would the Senator please give his decision, now.

Everyone became quite anxious, the group joined in applause for the ex-senator when he arose, and then the room became very quiet.

He then said that he was withdrawing and passed around mimeographed copies of a letter from himself to the committee. The contents of the letter read:

"To make my position crystal clear I submit the following:

"In the first place I did not seek the post now vacant in which I formerly served my County and

Usigli Here To Confer On Festival, Artists, Programs

Gastone Usigli came down from San Francisco Tuesday for his first conference with Dene Denny on this year's (The Eighteenth) Annual Bach Festival, July 18-24. For many years Usigli has been conductor and musical director of the Festival, which Miss Denny produces.

During the two hours he was in town, Usigli and Miss Denny worked on the programs and the artist roster. Among former Bach Festival artists who are certain to return this year are Phyllis Moffet, soprano; Donald Gramm, bass; James Schwabacher, tenor, of the quartet. The contralto has not been decided upon yet. Pianist Ralph Linsley and Joseph Schuster, whom some critics consider the greatest living cellist, will be back, Miss Denny says. At present Schuster is on concert tour in Europe.

Rehearsals for the chorus will be called shortly.

Street Dept. Cross-Walk Confusion Irks Planners

The nigh onto three years' feud between the street department and the planning commission, relatively quiescent since the Huckleberry-juniper Compromise of the Battle of the Ocean Avenue Strip, flared up anew at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the planning commission.

City Clerk Peter Mawdsley reported that at its last meeting the city council had kicked around the planning commission's recommendation that the street department discontinue painting discontinued lines in the cross walks, since it leads to confusion in the minds of both motorists and pedestrians, especially of children trained to walk between the parallel lines. The council had kicked the planning commission's recommendation around and hadn't done a thing about it. "They're still painting discontinued lines," said City Clerk Mawdsley.

And the chief of police had stated at the council meeting that he thought the street department's original treatment in their cross-walk brush work and composition leads to confusion and is a safety hazard, Mawdsley added.

If the chief of police says it's a safety hazard, what more does the council want? the planning commission members wanted to know. So they went on record with a recommendation that the city council again consider their recommendation that the cross-walks be painted in the conventional manner so kids trained to stay between the parallel lines will have parallel lines to stay between.

"Our chidren's safety should come before white paint economy," was their summation of the subject.

The planning commission gave tentative approval of Robert Stanton's plan for a 28-unit hotel apartment building and shop on Casanova Street at Ocean Avenue. A basement garage provides parking for 22 cars.

It approved:

Tom Perry's apartment house plans at the north east corner of Mission at Fifth. It is to be a two-story building with ten apartments and provision for parking seven cars.

Walter and Harold Nielsen's application for a building permit for a second story on the forward portion of the present Nielsen Office Building on the south west corner of Lincoln and Seventh streets. It will contain four apartments.

The commission re-approved James R. Belvail's plans for a

National Parks Assn. Executive Pleased With Pine Cone Column

Fred Packard, executive secretary of National Parks Association, was in town the early part of the week, visiting C. Edward Graves, western representative for the nation-wide conservation organization.

Packard is on the coast from his Washington, D.C. headquarters to attend the Annual Wilderness Conference in Berkeley this weekend.

He is enthusiastic about the success of Grave's Conservation On The March column in the Pine Cone and wants to see it syndicated so its effectiveness can be extended to other communities throughout the country.

Hotelmen Lose Round 2 Against Parking District

The Carmel Business Association supported its parking district committee last night with an overwhelming vote of approval (52 to 2) for the parking district as proposed by the Business Association and outlined in the "resolution of intention" passed by the city council at its meeting last week (see legal notice on page 11, this issue of the Pine Cone).

The vote came after two hours' discussion at the quarterly dinner meeting at La Playa Hotel. Robert Stanton presented the Hotelmen's objection to the revenue-raising methods of the proposed parking district, namely, assessment of the business property. Stanton said the people he represented felt that this assessment was "discriminatory" in that for several years all new hotels and apartment houses have been required by ordinance to provide off-street parking in a ratio of two thirds to the number of their accommodations. Other businesses do not have to provide off-street parking for their customers. The district should be financed either by parking meters or an increase in sales tax, he said. Another objection was that not enough parking land is to be acquired under the district at present and the method of adding lots in the future will involve cumbersome legal processes.

Enos Fouratt, business association president, told Stanton that the parking district committee had discussed both parking meters and sales tax increase, and had decided in favor of the assessment method because "the people of this town won't go for parking meters or for a sales tax increase to finance parking lots." He added that the fact that the required number of business property owners had signed the parking petition was indication of the willingness of a large number of business property owners to pay additional taxes "to protect their property value since if parking is not provided for the business district, fringe shopping areas which do provide parking are certain to spring up."

Fouratt wanted to know why the hotelmen, and the business property owners whom they had persuaded to join them in protest, had waited three and a half years —until the council was prepared to pass its resolution of intention and set a date for public hearing— to offer their objections.

Stanton said the Hotelmen's Association had been in existence only for a few months.

Others speaking in favor of the parking district were City Councilman Francis Whitaker, Councilwoman Geraldine Smith, and Corum Jackson.

Councilman John Chitwood spoke on his hobby, sales tax increase, but did not propose it as a means of financing a parking district. He believed it could be used to acquire additional parking lots after the district was formed, and for a number of other pur-

Mrs. Nickel's Zambezi Demonstrates That Rhodesian Ridgebacks, Bred To Hunt Lions, Are Great Baby Sitters

By Beth Ingels

The Rhodesian Ridgeback has been the favorite lion dog of the Hottentots for hundreds of years, but a new use for his talents has been discovered in this country. He is now considered one of the best of baby sitters.

Ask the person who owns one, and in this case it is Mrs. John B. Nickel of Valley Way and Carpenter Street in Carmel.

Zambezi, after the river of the same name, is three years old and is one of the two known Ridgebacks in Carmel. The other is owned by Mrs. E. Allan Champe. Zambezi, a male, is red in color, while Marsian Coronetta, a female, is wheaten. The latter, incidentally, answers to the name of Sue.

This breed of dog is characterized by a ridge formed by hair down the back, sort of in the nature of a cowlick. It is to be noted here that Queen Elizabeth also owns several of this breed.

In weight, these dogs are from 70 to 75 pounds and they stand from 25 to 27 inches at the withers. Traditionally they were bred for the speed and stamina to run down a lion, as well as for courage and ability to hold him at bay. Ridgeback owners, however, find him adaptable for a ranch dog, hunting hound, watch dog or just as a pet. This is where the baby sitting comes in.

Mrs. Nickel's Zambezi accompanies her four-year-old daughter to Peter Pan Nursery school each morning, sits around with the children for awhile and then takes off for home and breakfast. Mrs. Champe reports, as well, that Sue is wonderful with her small children. Indeed, so much so that they do not realize that all dogs are not that gentle and protective by nature.

Zambezi won a special award in the miscellaneous class at last

PADRE NINE OPENS LEAGUE SEASON TOMORROW

With two practice wins to their credit, Junipero Memorial, 7 to 1, and Palma, 19 to 4, Carmel High's varsity baseball team launches into league action tomorrow afternoon when the potent Hollister Haybalers invade Bardarson Field. Blessed with two of the best pitchers in the league, Hollister has been established as favorites to win the B division of the CCAL and rate even-up with any of the A schools in the league. While the visiting Haybalers may be slightly stronger in the pitching department than the local preps, the Padres appear to have better all-around balance and exceptional defensive strength. In the two games played this season, the Carmel lads have committed only one miscue while accepting over 30 fielding chances.

Carmel will go into their first league action with a battery of Mike Mosolf and Bob Michela. These two lads are seasoned performers who have been through the tough Junior Legion circuit and are used to playing when the pressure is strong. Mosolf, a strong-armed starboard flinger, has plenty of swift to go along with a cracking curve-ball. Michela is the top catching prospect to grace the Carmel diamond since the halycon days when Don Canham was gloving the shoots of the sensational Henry Overin. Paul Fratessa, a much-improved hitter this season, will handle the first base assignment and, off early season performance, should be one of the top first-sackers in the league. With Jim Konrad at second and West Whittaker at shortstop, the Padres have a solid keystone combination capable of turning in the important double-play. Whittaker has one of the best arms on the team and is rapidly overcoming a tendency to shy away from tough-hopping grounders. Hailed as one of the smartest infielders in the league last season, Konrad has put on more size this year and is turning into a dangerous hitter as well as a clever glove man. At third-base there is a touch-and-go battle between Dave Castagna and Chuck Solomon for the starting assignment. Castagna has a slight edge in the hitting department while the diminutive Solomon rates the nod as a fielder. The Padres' outfield, while lacking solid hitting strength, has a trio of speedy fly-chasers capable of going a long ways for a ball. Bill McCormack, top stickman of the trio, is a two-year veteran in left-field and provides much of the punch for the Carmel squad. Equipped with the best throwing arm in the league, the light-hitting Roger Bullene covers one acre of ground from his center-field spot. Craig Chapman, a catcher last year, is working hard to master the outfield fundamentals and is improving with each practice session. Craig has a strong arm, good speed, and hits an occasional long ball. Outfield reserve strength is provided by Kyrk Reid and pitchers Dick Jennings and Mike Mosolf. Carmel's three-man pitching staff of Bill Powell, Dick Jennings, and Mosolf has been seasoned by last year's league play and a summer of Junior Legion competition.

Tomorrow's game gets underway at 3:30 and is open to the public free of charge.

TRACK MEET AT CARMEL HIGH FIELD SAT. AFTERNOON

The first of four track meets scheduled for Bardarson Field will be run off Saturday afternoon when the Live Oak thinclads match swift with Coach Howard Byrne's Carmel Padres. Besides this Saturday's meet with Live Oak, Carmel will host Gilroy on Monday, March 28th, King City on April 16th, and Pacific Grove on April 21st.

A new school in the B division of the CCAL, Live Oak will be making its first appearance at the Carmel track. Formerly in the Santa Clara Valley League, Live Oak has fielded some potent track squads capable of holding their own in the tough CCAL.

As shown by their consistent scoring in the Gonzales meet last Saturday, the Carmel track squads are well-balanced in all events and will be a threat in any dual meet. The twenty-man lightweight squad scored in every event against Gonzales and Santa Cruz and the heavyweights missed in only the shot-put.

Saturday's meet starts at 1:30 and the public is invited to attend.

CARMEL LIGHTWEIGHTS TRACK VICTORS

A surprisingly strong Carmel High lightweight track team came through with a smashing performance against Santa Cruz and Gonzales last Saturday afternoon to beat the larger schools by a convincing margin. Coach Howard Byrne's lightweights tallied sixty points, Gonzales was second with 51, and Santa Cruz trailed with 28. It was a real team victory for the Little Padres as they scored points in every event on the program. Double winners for the Carmel Babes were Bob Alvarez and Tam McPhail. Bob galloped home first in the 75-yard dash and the 330-yard run, while the agile McPhail copped both hurdle races. A new school record was established by Don Petty who pushed the 8-pound shot 52-feet 10-inches.

Carmel's varsity squad finished nine points away in the heavyweight division but turned in some good performances in the losing effort. Deane Phillips tied the long-standing pole-vault record as he soared over 10-8 in the stick event. Other first-places picked up by the Padres were George Wightman's 4:52 mile and Mike Mosolf's 19-2 broad-jump. Gonzales won the varsity meet with 60 points, Santa Cruz had 46, and Carmel finished with 41. Mike Mosolf's 8 points topped the Carmel performers who scored points in every event except the shot-put.

Lightweight scorers: Tam McPhail, first in both hurdles and ran on winning relay team; Don Petty, first in shot-put, second in discus, and relay; John Stiles, first high-jump; Lyle Shelton, fourth hurdles; David Ostrander, second 660 and 150; Phil Durbrow, third pole-vault; Bob Forbes, fourth pole-vault; Hampton Stewart, second high-jump and first 1320; Gary Bradburn, third 660; Dick Leutzinger, third 1320.

Varsity scorers: Mervyn Sutton, second 880; David Gray, third discus and high hurdles; Mike Stanton, fourth 100; Clyde Klaumann, third 440; Gene Mullnix, fourth 440 and broad-jump; Mike Mosolf, first broad jump, third high-jump, and fourth high-hurdles; Pierre Olivie, second discus; Don Rowe, second low-hurdles; Bill McCormack, fourth 220; George Wightman, first mile; Deane Phillips, first pole-vault; Randy Houghtelling, second pole-vault.

CARMEL CLUBS JUNIPERO SERRA AND PALMA

In the two opening baseball games of the current season, Carmel High's varsity had easy sailing as they nailed Monterey's Junipero Serra, 7 to 1, and clobbered Salinas Palma, 19 to 4. Parlaying nine walks and four hits into 7 runs against Junipero, the Padres appeared woefully weak at the plate but were sure-handed in the field, accepting all chances without an error. Bill McCormack, 2 for 2, and Bob Michela, 1 for 2, were the leading stickers for the Padres. Dick Jennings started on the mound for Carmel but was relieved by Bill Powell when he developed a streak of wildness. Stubby Bill turned in a brilliant relief effort as he took over with the bases jammed and struck out the side. Roger Bullene, fleet center-fielder, pulled off the fielding gem of the game when he ran a country mile to haul down a looping fly ball.

Boyer Recital Review

By LINDSAY-OLIVER

The recital given by Gilbert Boyer presented by the Robert Louis Stevenson School at the Sunset Auditorium Tuesday evening drew a large and enthusiastic audience to greet him—as this thorough musician deserved. One was glad indeed to see this inasmuch as such attention is too often reserved for visiting artists while the offerings of local musicians are taken too much for granted without proper appreciation or loyalty, except, perhaps, in the largest cities. I was hearing Mr. Boyer for the first time, having been in the East when he played earlier. His facility at the keyboard has been brought to the point of extraordinary ease and subtlety, even in this age of astonishing techniques, but this is not to say that musical values are sacrificed as with so many public players today. His qualities are such that throughout his program, while not too intensely a dramatic one, he conveyed so thoroughly a musical refreshment that it was restful to listen to.

Starting with Scarlatti — once known as a great harpsichordist, as his writing reflects, and regarded by many as the forerunner of modern execution — his Burlesca rippled forth like pure gurgling waters. It was followed by the Gluck-Saint-Saens Caprice on the Airs de Ballet from his opera Alceste, being one of the several Gluck scores which Saint-Saens edited. The Caprice was full of charmingly simple melodies that Gluck nearly always wrote, and these were delightfully expressed by the player. The B flat major Sonata of Mozart also shone with the grace and happiness so native to this consummate composer, who, in his sonatas particularly, exemplified that genius to which Beethoven and most great musicians have bowed in reverence. It was Mozart-playing of the best kind. In 1844 Chopin was a guest of George Sand at Nohaunt in France when the Sonata Op. 58 was the single output of that time and is not generally considered his best. The Presto movement, however, which follows the Largo has so strong a theme and development that concert performers seem to choose it largely for this, and Boyer gave it with fine dynamics and comprehension.

Later, his sense of Chopin was enhanced by the Etude Op. 10 No. 3 added as an encore—particularly in the haunting melody which affords a great example of Chopin's belief that the piano was capable of poetic and beautiful tone and not a mere poor imitation of an orchestra! This, of course, depends on execution, and Boyer certainly met the test brilliantly. Prelude, Twilight and Winter Clouds, three short pieces by Hal Garrott, were well received with the composer present receiving generous applause. The last named was the most effective, though all showed musical feeling and movement, and the score, which I saw later, were very legibly written.

Griffes' White Peacock gave another special opportunity for the pianist's perception of poetic sensibility in a high light of the program. Slominsky's Variations on a Kindergarten Tune brought forth graphically displayed humor as well as in the extra numbers of Run, Run, Little Soldier and The Little White Donkey by Octavia Pinto. The Three Maries, Villa-Lobos, completed an unusually long program.

It is good to know this artist is not just a visiting one, and has taken, with his artist wife, Louise Boyer, residence among us. The Monterey Peninsula, while having a number of very capable musicians already will welcome others of high attainments if it aims to become a real musical center.

Finian's Rainbow Opens This Week At Wharf Theatre

The colorful "sharecropper" musical comedy Finan's Rainbow will open at the Wharf Theatre Friday to play every Friday, Saturday and Sunday night for an indefinite run. The hit musical features such outstanding songs as How Are Things In Gloccomorra, The Old Devil Moon, and Look To The Rainbow.

Thomas Brock directs the production, with Dale Lefler in charge of dance and Jesse Parker as vocal director. The production is being done in cooperation with Fort Ord Special Services, headed by Colonel J. C. Reeder. Louis Cutelli is featured as the mischievous Irish leprechaun, Og; Donna Robb of Carmel will sing and act the leading part of Sharon, opposite tenor Gordon Greene. The title role will be played by veteran Wharf actor Nick LeFeuvre.

The cast numbers nearly forty singers, actors and dancers which makes it the Wharf's most ambitious production to date. Curtain on all performances is at 8:30.

St. Patrick Party For Everybody Tonight

It's a great day for the Irish, and tonight the official St. Patrick's day party will take place at Mission Ranch. The annual affair is sponsored by the Junipero Serra Men's Club as a benefit for the Carmel Mission School, with Dr. Joseph Noto as general chairman.

The party gets underway at 6:00 o'clock with cocktails in the Rec Hall. Dinner will be served at 7:00 o'clock in both the Rec Hall and the Barn; parents with children will be directed to the Barn, where a special kids' movie will be shown after dinner. While the young fry are watching Bobbie Driscoll in How Dear To My Heart (the show begins at 8:30), the adults will gather in the Rec Hall for the feature event of the evening: an auction of items of every kind donated by famous personalities all over the world. The auction, which begins at 9:00 o'clock, will be conducted by W. R. La Porte, with incidental assistance from two well-known celebrities, "Herb Shiner" and "George Gobble". Following the auction, the floor will be turned over to dancing for the remainder of the evening.

The party's open to everyone, and tickets will be on sale at the door. Reservations are also obtainable at Carmel Hardware or the Dolores Bakery.

CARMEL KITE FESTIVAL POSTPONED TO APRIL 2

The annual Carmel Kite Festival, originally scheduled to take place March 26, has been postponed until Saturday, April 2.

Ernest Calley, director of the festival, announced that the week's postponement was made in order to avoid conflict with the Boy Scouts' Scoutorama, which is slated for March 26-27.

Chet Lewis Moves Insurance Office

Now established at a new location in the Post Office Building on Dolores and Fifth streets is Chester V. Lewis, whose insurance business shares office quarters with Montagne Realty. Mr. Lewis' office was formerly in the Pine Inn.

A resident of Carmel since 1942, Chester Lewis has engaged in a number of activities in the course of his career. Born in the east, he attended Columbia, New York University, George Williams College in Chicago and finally the University of Chicago, where he obtained his master's degree in social service administration and social sciences. Prior to coming here, he worked with the Government Indian Service in New Mexico.

Before opening his insurance office in Carmel, Mr. Lewis operated a photographic studio in the Seven Arts Court, and also did wartime work in shipyards in Oregon. He and his wife, Louise, who make their home at First and Lobos Street, have been active in the Great Books Foundation, and led Great Books discussion groups here through the fifth year. Mr. Lewis has also served on the Carmel Planning Commission.

In his new office, Lewis hopes to specialize in the fields of analysis and counseling on both general and life insurance. He is a member of the Monterey Life Underwriters Association, and representative of the Franklin Life Insurance Company, New Hampshire and Maryland, Zenith, and the Fire Association of Philadelphia.

W. J. O'Driscoll

William J. O'Driscoll, a Peninsula resident for nearly four years, died Saturday at his home in Pebble Beach. He was 40, and had been in poor health for some time.

He was born January 22, 1915, in Jersey City, New Jersey, and before moving to this area made his home in Bel Air, in Southern California.

He leaves his wife, Tracy, and a daughter, Rebecca Lou, both of Pebble Beach; his father, Judge William V. O'Driscoll of Jersey City; two brothers, the Rev. Vincent O'Driscoll, a Jesuit priest, and Joseph O'Driscoll, both of New Jersey; and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Nelson of Tenafly, New Jersey.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning, with Pastor Don Duncan officiating. Pallbearers were Andrew Victorine, Ernest Victorine, R. H. Davis, Clarence Heinrich, Otto Horton and Charles Magee. Burial was at El Carmelo Cemetery.

MISS WRIGHT TO SING FOR VESPERS CONCERT

The fourth Vespers concert of the Lenten season will take place in All Saints' Church, Sunday evening at 5:00 o'clock. Miss Zeala Wright, soprano, and Robert Forbes, organist, will present the program. Miss Wright, who received her early musical training at the College of the Pacific, came to Carmel six months ago from Stockton, where she was formerly soprano soloist and choir member of the Congregational Church. She is now a member of the choir of All Saints'.

The half-hour musical program will be followed by a service of Evening Prayer conducted by Rev. Angus Dun, Jr., rector of All Saints'. The public is invited.

AMPLE FREE PARKING

The Needler

By Beth

It always pleases me when certain inventions of man go berserk. Like an automatic doughnut machine I saw in a Los Angeles creamery window one day which apparently had become angry at always being nothing but a doughnut machine. It began tossing doughnuts wildly about the shop, hitting customers in the face, instead of sedately dropping the things in the proper receptacle. Another sight which pleased me was a certain brand lifetime fountain pen which had been drawing circles on a large pad of paper for several hours when it began doing much the same thing, scrawling great awkward designs, with the pen at the same time digging into and tearing the paper. Quite a large crowd had collected to watch this, before someone turned off the juice and pulled down the window drapes until order had been restored.

The latest on this order to come to my attention was told to me by a girl who works in the office of a well-known hotel on the Peninsula. She was making out the payroll, doing the figures on a very dependable adding machine. It suddenly became psychotic and decided it liked figure "9's." So instead of a certain payroll check being $343.60, it would be $9,343.-60. The entire payroll was something around $7,000 but the machine insisted it was $97,000. The contraption was sent to the place where naughty adding machines are sent.

Spring is just around the corner, as the song writers tell us, and with its advent we note that California poppies are making their appearance out around Fort Ord. There, also, we noted the lovely bluish-purple bush lupin and a scattering of field lupin. Soon the meadows will be spectacular with this color combination. My scouts tell me that gallitos (Johnny-jump-ups) have been blooming for some time up in the Jamesburg area, as well as shooting stars and buttercups. Fruit trees are in bloom up the Valley but, alas, each year there are fewer to be seen. Houses instead, which aren't half so pretty.

Also just around the corner is April Fool's Day. Does anyone know how and when it originated? Noticed an article in a woman's magazine recently which gave recipes for cotton candy (real cotton) and flannel cakes (real flannel). Think I'll make some salt water taffy (real salt water), marble cake (real marbles) and a club sandwich (real clubs).

I've always been told that you do not select a cat but that the cat selects you or the house you live in. Also, that he will return to his selected home if transported to another. Now I know these things to be true. Bocci, the grey cross-eyed cat, came to the house at Fifth and Torres as a kitten and has remained there ever since. He was taken away this week to a new home some blocks away. But each morning he is back at the place he adopted in time for breakfast. Sort of wish he wouldn't, though, because in returning he must cross Ocean Avenue with its traffic hazards. He is a cat who mews silently, if there is such a way of mewing. Reminds me of Bea Lillie, in her revue in San Francisco last year, who said that as a matter of fact cats do not say miyow. They say miyower, with the long accent on the "r".

This, in turn, reminds me of a friend who remarked recently that she has never heard a dog say bow-wow. They say such things as roff, arf and yeep. I once had a little dog who said ouch when she was hurt.

200 Turn Out For Fred Farr Rally

Over 200 enthusiastic supporters of Fred Farr for State Senate heard Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan speak at a dinner and rally in Mr. Farr's behalf Friday night at the Mission Ranch. Both Gov. Williams and Mr. Farr received standing ovations. Gov. Williams stressed precinct work as the key to victory in the election and urged all those present to work toward this end. His attractive wife, Nancy, is a seasoned campaigner and she gave an interesting talk on the role women play in winning elections. Mrs. Williams has her own television program "Nancy's Corner" which originates in Lansing, capitol of Michigan.

Mrs. Clara Shirpser of Berkeley, Democratic National Committeewoman, talked about the tremendous growth of Democratic Clubs in California. There are now over 400 clubs in the state and they are providing the party with new vitality and are bringing more and more active workers into politics. Roger Kent of Kentfield, vice-chairman of the Democratic party in California, introduced Gov. Williams. He and the Governor served together in the Navy in the Pacific in World War II and each spoke highly of the other's outstanding war record.

Following the meeting many of the guests remained for music and dancing and it was generally agreed that the affair was successful and stimulating.

Prior to the dinner about 100 people attended a reception at the home of Mrs. Paul Low in honor of Gov. and Mrs. Williams and Fred Farr.

Fred Farr for Senator Headquarters was opened Wednesday at 521 Tyler Street in Monterey. Members of the Carmel Women's Democratic Club are in charge of staffing and maintaining the headquarters, which will be open from 10:00 to 5:00 daily except Sunday until election day, May 3.

Kenneth Richter Brings Exceptional Film On Germany Today

Germany Today will be the outstanding Travelogue to be presented in Carmel March 26 in Sunset School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock by Kenneth Richter, former Hollywood photographer. Mr. Richter has recently returned from Germany with his vitally important and beautiful all color motion picture. He gives a full picture of the political, geographical and cultural aspects of present day Germany. There are shots of East Germany taken with a concealad camera thus giving a comparison with West Germany from the flat plains of the north to the industrial Ruhr and the historic castles on the Rhine.

Kenneth Richter is a Harvard man who won a scholarship there and paid his way through his photographic work. He later spent several years in Hollywood where he perfected the technical basis which has made his films in demand; the Encyclopedia Britanica and Coronet have used his films. In the course of his film work he has covered forty-five countries and his platform appearances bring a skilled observer's insight into his depiction of them. He is a brilliant speaker. In bringing Richter here Alice Seckels feels that young people should see this historic film and announces that all grade and high school students who present themselves at the box office window the night of the lecture may have a seat for fifty cents and sit anywhere in the house.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by C. Edward Graves Western Representative, National Parks Association

Last week Dr. Ferinand Haasis and I made a one-day trip to Devils Peak and back. This is the region of the Los Padres National Forest in the Santa Lucia Mountains where the big fire of last October originated. Dr. Haasis and his wife man the Sid Ormsbee Lookout Station during the fire season and it was he who first spotted the fire on the evening of October 10 about 9:00 o'clock. The beginning of the fire was hidden from the lookout station by the high ridge on which Mt. Carmel and Devils Peak are the most prominent points. By 9:00 o'clock a column of smoke, reddish at the base, had risen high enough to be seen from the station and the alarm was turned in.

Investigations as to the cause of forest fires are usually difficult because the ground on which the fire started is so thoroughly burned over and there is little time at the beginning to do anything but fight the fire. However, this fire started on a Sunday, when hikers and hunters are usually afoot, and since no thunderstorms were reported on that afternoon, it is very probable that this was a man-caused fire. It originated approximately at the junction of the Devils Peak and Skinner Ridge trails, a natural resting-place for trail travelers.

From the standpoint of conservation there are only two observations to be made. First, every effort should be made on the part of users of the forests to develop habits of carefulness with fire. Second, every effort should be made to impress state and national legislators with the importance of adequate funds for fire fighting. This is a very important issue in Southern California where fire risks are high and population density is great. It is one of the foremost objectives of conservationists in that region.

Our trip was most enjoyable, except for a feeling of sadness at the great desolation caused by the fire. Leaving the Coast Highway at Palo Colorado Canyon we drove in about four miles to a point on Long Ridge known locally as The Hoist. From there we followed a trail along the course of Rocky Creek to its source, thence over the ridge to the Turner Creek picnic-ground. From here it is a climb of about three miles to the top of Devils Peak, which is approximately 4200 feet about sea level. On our return trip we varied the route by following the Long Ridge trail from the Turner Creek picnic-ground. The round trip was about 14 miles in all.

The fire covered most of this territory, though it was spotty in many areas. The line at which it was stopped on the west side of the burn can be easily traced. Most of the trees burned were madrones and oaks, but brush-covered hillsides were most common. Manzanita and chamise constituted the greater part of the brush. New sprouts are already getting a good start at the base of most of the madrones and oaks and of the brush. No seeding or planting was done in this section. That work was limited to the watershed on the northern side of the ridge which drains into Los Padres Reservoir. Nevertheless some herbaceous vegetation is appearing and it seems likely that barring cloudbursts, the hillsides will soon have a protective covering.

Several Fine Watercolors In Present Gallery Show

By Dora Hagemeyer

Several very fine watercolors may be seen in the present show at the Beardsley Gallery of the Carmel Art Association. To the right of the door is a good crisp piece of work by John La Pierre, expert in technique, with the overlapping planes of color lending depth and shadow to the rock facets. Carmel Beach by Royden Martin combines the sensitive nuances of this medium with a strength and power usually reserved for oils. It is capably handled and very effective. Second Snowfall by Vaughan Shoemaker is also a sure and direct expression, with its heavily piled snow on the colorful landscape.

The beautiful drawing in colored chalk by Gerald Wasserman is one of the high points of this show. This skillful line drawing from the nude uses its subject as the rhythmic content for a graceful work of art based on the flowing contours of the figure. Donald Teague is represented by a splendid little picture called Chinese Lunch in which the observer looks down upon the deck where the white clad Chinese are enjoying their meal. It is expertly drawn in closely observed color. Harvey Williamson has several of his free pencil drawings in the show, and John O'Shea presents a massive figure in charcoal, very strong and forceful.

The dark, looming sky and mysterious hills of Eugene Baker's picture attracts the attention to its well-arranged landscape and striking contrasts, and Helen Dooley's Green Relic lends a luminous green to the age of an old house and its overgrown trees. Waterfront by Lee Tevis is notable for a nice sense of space and simple grouping of objects of interest. Misty Morning by Barbara West is one of this clever artist's colorful pastels, and Landscape by Leon Amyx recalls the beauty of his late successful one-man show. In Navajo Country by E. C. Mac Lennan places the great monoliths of the desert against an angular treatment of clouds to emphasize their thrust and stability. Rip Matteson's simple cubic barns, with their softly restrained sequence of color, reflect light into an airy landscape. Anita Wainwright's pastel study of white Begonias is particularly well drawn, the clean pure gleam of the petals shining with true flower light. Laura Maxwell treats the same flowers and the background of generous foliage. Still Indianesque by Elwood Graham is an abstraction carried out in simple tones and complex lines. Cormorants by Eleanor Taylor James uses the gestures of the dark sea birds to make a lively over-all pattern.

At the entrance door is a very attractive oil by Sam Harris, painted as though a light sea breeze had just swept over the water.

Guildhall Production

By ROSALIND WALL

Highlighted by good acting, the Forest Theater Guild production of Detective Story could have been improved by cutting which would have given it a sharper, faster pace. In this highly suspenseful, psychological drama, centering around the compulsive, morally uncompromising character of Detective McLeod (Jim Hare), there is a great deal of action, all of which takes place in a New York precinct police station. One had the feeling that it would have been perfect if only there had been a little less of it; fewer characters, shorter speeches, a little less stage-business, including telephone calls.

However, audience interest was sustained throughout not only by the story, which is really a gripper, but by the excellence of the players. All of the leads were top notch, and several of the bit players achieved something very close to perfection. Particularly notable was Gracecarol Kearney in the lead role of Mary McLeod, a part requiring sensitive handling, finesse, and restraint. The emotional quality was perfect, largely because she did not overplay it or let go too strongly with the tremolo. Jim Hare did a creditable job as the principle-driven, tormented McLeod, no mean feat when one considers how easy it would be to bungle this role which is more complex than it appears on the surface. Excellent was Allen Foulkes in the sympathetic role of Detective Brody who attempted to persuade Detective McLeod to go easy on a young man who had stolen $480 from his employer because he was in love. The latter, Arthur Kindred, played by Floyd D. Adams, Jr., was played with a convincingness which was only equalled by the performance of Mary Carroll as Susan Carmichael, the girl who had always loved Arthur. Her scenes with Arthur were invariably accompanied by much audience response, including whispers and nudges.

The outstanding bit characterization was that of Charlie, the first burglar, as rendered by Ric Masten. He seems to breathe the very climate of theatre; and if his role was of the type which would be impossible to exaggerate, it can only be said that actually it is extremely difficult to exaggerate and yet achieve naturalness.

Another excellent bit part was that of Willie, who came in, cursing and muttering, to mop the floors, as played by Jean T. McKinney. Suzanne Armstrong did a nice job as Miss Hatch, the prostitute who was bought off with mink before facing a line-up to make an identification. Marjorie Munk was excellent as the dimwitted shoplifter with the Bronx accent, one of the play's comedy bits; and Jack James was amusing as the bedazed gentleman who had had his pocket picked.

Others in the cast were Jack Morris (Joe Feinson, the crime reporter), Allan D. Wehn (Detective Dakis), Ed Weiner (Detective Gallagher), Marge Cain (Mrs. Farragut), Walter Williams (Detective Callahan), Walter Bernard (Detceive O'Brien), Morrison Defty (Endicott Sims, the lawyer), Harry Klekas (second burglar), Gisela Stroope (Mrs. Bagatelle), William Kallerup (Mr. Schneider, the abortionist), Sam Karas (Lieut. Monoghan), Fred McFarland (Mr. Pritchett), Anthony Martin (Tami Giacoppetti), and Joan McKinney (The Indignant Citizen). All of these bits were well done, particularly those by Walter Williams, Harry Klekas, Gisela Stroope and William Kallerup. Although Jack Morris seemed a natural for the part of reporter, we could have wished his interpretation had been less sentimental. It was a sentimental part, but would have been more effective played, as it were, reluctantly.

Detective Story, directed by Cole Weston, will play this weekend and next. Incidentally, the first nighters were enthusiastic about the play, and everyone was impressed by the newly decorated Guildhall foyer with its pink walls, coffee bar, and huge mirror.

DESIGN ANCESTRAL

This then I am . . . the flesh upon the bone
That come to birth these generations after,
Which is the sum of you . . . your grief, your laughter,
Your warmth, your coldness have become my own
That did not, rather could not ask for it.
A heart, a brain, an alchemy of cell
(Set joint to joint) of heaven or of hell,
Are body in that many others bore it.
Thus I see beauty through a thousand eyes,
Cry, make music of strange words, love not enough,
Or love too much, am loved, meet with rebuff
Till I am wisely false or falsely wise
In living out that portion which is my Inheritance from you of earth and sky.

VACATION HOUSE

This weathered house that faces sand and sea
Has come to life again now school is out.
The somber days of grey are put to rout,
When shutters are unlatched, and suddenly
As suddenly as silence came last Fall
There's laughter everywhere, and a gay song.
The time of waiting has seemed overlong.
Once more this house is home, the raftered hall
Is warm with sun and light. A house may bear
The winter months in all good grace if only
Companionship of Summer dims the lonely
Monotony of wind, if loved hands care
Enough to gather driftwood, sweep the grate
In readiness for fires burning late.

—CLAIRE AVEN THOMSON.

TO A MIGRATORY BIRD

What beam invisible to outer sight
Lays down a pathway through the trackless air
To tune you home? What ray too fine for sight
Guides you through storm and darkness and despair?

It seeks you out among the summer leaves
Where in a wealth of goldenness and song,
Suddenly hushed, your listening heart receives
A summons from the land where you belong.

Then with what pure direction and what love
It guides your eager wings, and lends them power
Beyond their strength, through fearful miles above
The death-concealing waves that rise and tower,
Through distance so incredible and vast
And heavenless—and shines you home at last!

—ANON.

Players Circle Show

By VIRGINIA SHAW

The taut, exciting performance of Payment Deferred, at the Golden Bough Player's Circle, is a triumph for all concerned. It has no major flaws, and very few minor ones. It is a fine play, beautifully and smoothly done, by a group which has earned its reputation for top entertainment.

The play, an adaptation by Jeffrey Dell of C. S. Forester's novel, traces the breakdown of a self-righteous English bank employee named William Marble who, in desperation over financial circumstances, poisons a long lost nephew, and in turn is poisoned far more terribly by the effects of his quickly acquired wealth and his sickening guilt. Struggling simultaneously to impress his family and neighbors with the trappings of prosperity and propriety and to forget the inescapable evidence of his crime through the temporary distractions of liquor and a lusciously amoral Frenchwoman, he is led progressively deeper into his self-contrived hell.

Mason Wright's superlative performance in the complex role of Marble provides several scenes of almost excruciating impact in a characterization of sustained intensity. He underplays the easily-hammed role with complete control, and prevents even the terrible moments of Marble's hysterical breakdown from getting out of hand and destroying the carefully-contrived buildup of the action. His subtleties of gesture and expression are scaled to the audience's proximity to the stage. The few grimly humorous moments allowed by the part, and the final pathetic appeal in Marble's shabby attempts to pretend "everything's just like before," are played by Wright with a full realization of the psychological forces which have made Marble not an evil character, but a desperately weak and frightened one.

No less excellent is Babs Richardson as Marble's beaten-down, slavishly loyal wife Annie. Mrs. Richardson was clearly a find in The Silver Whistle, but her part then was no match for her abilities. Her performance in Payment Deferred shows her to be a dramatic actress of conviction; her mousy, worn little Annie, whose devotion survives first her husband's guilty irritability and then the shared knowledge of his crime, is a wonderful and sympathetic portrayal.

Karen Williams has the role of Winnie, the Marbles' adolescent daughter, who turns from a fairly dutiful schoolgirl to a rebellious, vindictive runaway from her background and family. Karen manages her role with breezy nonchalance, rising to her big scenes with skill and force, never misssing a line or a gesture.

A happy incidence of type casting makes Emilija Sosic physically perfect for the role of Rita Collins, the temptress of the piece. But beneath the almost electric sex appeal and the restless, catlike seductiveness, Miss Sosic projects the viciousness of her part with smouldering effectiveness.

The supporting cast follows the high standard set by the leads. Betsi Pye, who appears in the play's prologue and epilogue as an inquisitive house-hunter, is tweedy and bubbling with animation, while Edgar Pye is in both the opening and closing sections and in the play itself as a beefily good-natured Cockney real estate agent. Stuart James plays the brief but important role of the doctor with quiet assurance, while Robert Barrett puts in a short-lived but ingratiating appearance as the murder victim.

Lee Crowe's attention to detail and refinement of the interpretation, action and staging of the play is the solid structure on which each individual performance is built. His insistence on pace, his understanding of the limitations and advantages of central staging and of the handling of such a powerful drama as Payment Deferred can best be appreciated in the audience's complete absorption in the play, its belief in the characters, and of course, its vociferous indica-

Local Romans Gather For Annual Banquet On Ides Of March

Observing the ancient Roman calendar, the members of the Carmel High Latin Club reserved the Ides of March for their ninth annual Roman Banquet, held Tuesday evening from 6:00 to 9:00 o'clock at the high school cafeteria.

It was all done up according to ancient tradition. The toga-clad guests lolled on couches while slaves served the food, passed water and towels between courses and provided entertainment. The slaves, however, were fed prior to the banquet.

Tricliniarch (master of ceremonies) Millard Martin started off the procession by announcing "Cena parata est." Trumpeters Shannah Stanton and Babara Mitchell heralded the arrival of Caesar (Churchill Carmalt) and Calpurnia (Robin Burnham), who offered a prayer at the altar and welcomed the guests. Three courses were served: gustus (assorted relishes, salad and rolls, accompanied by "wine" which bore a suspicious resemblance to milk), cena (chicken and beans, plus more "wine"), and mensa secunda (nuts, fruit and pastry).

Between courses, the guests heard a reading from Cicero by Sascha Willcox, a reading from Virgil by Robin Burnham and a modern version of Mark Antony's oration by David Castagna, and enjoyed dances by three comely slave girls, Bonny Wager, Gay Morris and Deirdre Carney.

A wine ceremony followed the meal, with punch serving as wine this time, and Bob Durbrow performing the duties of head wine slave. Toasts were made, and Churchill Carmalt gave a reading from Caesar. The second year class stunt was performed by Bob Prince and company, and musical entertainment was provided by the duet of Charlotte Boyd and Millard Martin and marimba soloist Luraine Dearing. The evening closed with an ensemble rendition of Gaudeamus Igitur, exchange of pleasantries between Caesar and Calpurnia, and the parting words "servi ferte soleas."

Officers of the Latin Club are Robin Burnham, consul; Churchill Carmalt, proconsul; Stephanie Craviotto, scribe; Leslie Geyer, quaestor; Shannah Stanton, aedile and general chairman of the banquet. The executive committee consists of Stannah Stanton, Robin Burnham, Lucy Carmalt, Trulee Scarlett, Frances Castrejon, Susan Stanton, Roberta Vallon and Sascha Willcox. Decorations for the banquet were made by Lucy Carmalt, Truee Scarlett, Frances Castrejon and Roberta Vallon. Faculty committee is Miss Dorothy Wright, Mrs. Kenneth Down, Mrs. Ruth Boyd, Mrs. F. H. Korkis, Mrs. M. D. Brey and Mrs. M. P. Riker. Mrs. Matthew Beaton is sponsor of the Latin Club.

Those present at the banquet were:

Jules Cern, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the new church edifice, Sixth and Monte Verde Street, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, on March 24 at 8:00 o'clock. His subject will be Christion Science: Its Fundamental Teachings and Practice Use. The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

A native of Dallas, Texas, Mr. Cern is on a nationwide lecture tour. He has devoted full time to the practice of Christian Science healing since 1935. Prior to that, he was an advertising executive for a large New York department store. After turning from advertising to the theater, he appeared in three plays on Broadway and toured most of the United States and Canada. During World War II he was Volunteer Wartime Worker at Governor's Island, New York.

Catherine Millar To Be Soloist With County Symphony

The third concert of the Monterey County Symphony Association on March 29 in its brilliant 1954-55 series will feature Catherine Millar, young mezzo soprano. Miss Millar, a Canadian by birth, is the sister of Conductor Gregory Millar.

In California since 1953, Miss Millar was educated in Vancouver, British Columbia, and studied there under the renowned baritone Dalton Baker. Since her arrival here she has studied at Mills College under Luther Marchant and has appeared in the Bay Area with a chamber music group directed by Leon Kirschner.

At present she is completing her musical education at Mills under Darius Milhaud, and will be heard in a concert in San Francisco in the fall of this year.

AFRICA'S PROBLEMS TOPIC OF LECTURE FRI.

The public is invited to hear a lecture tomorrow evening by the Rev. George M. Houser, who has just returned from a four months' trip through eight countries of Africa. Mr. Houser will discuss such problems as civil disobedience and racial repression in South Africa; the attitude of African peoples towards colonialism; and the Mau Mau terrorists in Kenya. A Methodist minister, Mr. Houser is currently on a speaking tour sponsored by the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

The meeting will take place at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mayer located on the southeast corner of Monte Verde and 13th. There will be no admission charge.

POST BUYS WARE STORY

Harlan Ware, writer of the One Man's Family radio serial, who moved here several months ago, has found that his new house has the right atmosphere for writing. Ware has just sold the first story he's written since coming to Carmel to the Saturday Evening Post.

Bill Kappy has done his usual excellent job on the staging, props and lighting, creating the right atmosphere of middle class bourgeoise taste to surround the Marble menage. The many shifts of props and changes of scene are effected efficiently by Constance Bestor, Glenn Kearns and Don Allyn. Others members of the production staff are Melodi Brien, music and sound effects; Don Allyn, makeup, and Henry, coiffures.

Joni Mackenzie Weds Lt. Hoyman

Joan Catherine Mackenzie of Carmel and Lt. William C. Hoyman of Encino were married at 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Church of the Wayfarer, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride, an alumna of Carmel High and Stanford, was given in marriage by her father, John Fisher Mackenzie. Her sister, Gail, who attends Carmel High at present, was her only attendant.

Ice blue tulle over taffeta made Joni's ballerina-length gown, which was fashioned with a bouffant skirt, long sleeves and a scoop neckline trimmed with lace. Her short tulle veil was of the same shade of palest blue; lace gloves and satin pumps completed her ensemble, and she carried a spring bouquet of white cyclamen and hyacinths. Her maid of honor wore a ballerina frock and short tulle veil similar to the bride's in a contrasting shade of deep turquoise blue, and carried a cluster of white carnations.

Joni's mother chose a satin suit in a soft rose shade and a corsage of deep pink cymbidium, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Ralph Hoyman of Encino, wore a gray linen ensemble with pink accessories and pinned on frosty pink cymbidium. Mrs. Hoyman came up from Southern California with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Carpenter, and their two children.

Lt. Hoyman's best man was his brother, Lt. (jg) Roger Hoyman, who is stationed at San Diego; both wore their U.S. Navy dress blue uniforms. Ushers were the bride's brother, John D. Mackenzie, a Stanford student; Toby Sampson of Carmel, Hugh Hannon of Monterey, John Selover of San Francisco, and David Freshel, a longtime friend of the groom, who with his wife flew out from Detroit for the wedding.

Before leaving on their honeymoon trip, the new Lt. and Mrs. Hoyman met the more than 150 guests at a reception held at the church and cut a tiered cake decorated with fresh yellow roses and forget-me-nots. This weekend, following a leisurely trip down the coast with stops at Santa Barbara, Laguna and La Jolla, the couple will be at home in Coronado, where Lt. Hoyman is stationed as a pilot with the Navy. Later this Spring, the couple expect to make their residence in Japan, where the lieutenant will be transferred in May.

Carmel Foundation Meeting

Re-elected at the annual meeting last Thursday of the Carmel Foundation were Capt. Archer Allen, president; Dr. Laidlaw Williams, vice-president; Mrs. Larry Barretto, secretary; Miss Hope Hasty, treasurer. Dr. Hans von Richter was elected to fill a vacancy on the board. Miss Alice Seckels and Dr. Robert Parsons were appointed as directors, while the following holdover members of the board were re-elected to another three-year term: Capt. Allen, Dr. Remsen Bird, Miss Jane Burritt, Dr. Helen A. Field, Miss Hope Hasty, Miss Harriet Hayes and Mrs. Sidney Trevvett.

Following the meeting the group saw a special anniversary exhibit of paintings and crafts. The work of 35 painters, all of whom have had individual showings at Town House, was hung in the the main building, while in the studio woodcarving instructor John Paul Bartlett displayed the copper work, jewelry, carving, ceramics and sculpture of 14 craftsmen. Tea was served by Mrs. Malcolm Millard, Mrs. W. L. Marr, Miss Margaret Andrews, Mrs. C. L. Sanders and Mrs. Jack Willoughby.

Nursery School Visits Ranch

The wonders of country life were demonstrated to 27 youngsters from the Carmel Parents Nursery School on a recent guided tour of the Carmel Valley Dairy. Jay Huffman, owner of the dairy, and his five-year-old son, Jim, were hosts to the children and their chaperones, and introduced the visitors to a two-day-old calf, showed them the bull pen and gave a demonstration of milking procedure. Most fascinating and enviable to the small fry, however, was the spectable of young Jimmy driving his father's tractor.

Nursery school mothers who convoyed the children were Mrs. Sam Colburn, Mrs. Herbert Vial, Mrs. Leonard Brown, Mrs. Philip Coniglio, Mrs. Richard Lofton, Mrs. John Westover, Mrs. Robert Forbes, Mrs. Jack Craft and Mrs. Rosa Doner, school director.

Registration is now being taken for children for the fall term at the nursery school. The school is cooperative, limited to 25 mothers with children from two and a half years to kindergarten age. Each mother works at the school one morning a week and attends one weekly evening meeting under the Adult Education program. Mothers interested are asked to call Mrs. Forbes at 7-6612.

Audubon Bird Walk

Audubon Society members, equipped with sturdy shoes and lunches, will gather at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning at the junction of Carmel Valley Road and Highway 1 on a field trip to San Clemente Dam.

Judy Feek to Wed in Austria

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feek have announced the forthcoming marriage in Austria of their oldest daughter, Judith Ferry Feek, and William Harold Pilkenton III, son of Mrs. Ruth K. Pilkenton of Glen Ellen, Illinois.

The young couple will exchange vows on Saturday, April 2, at 11:00 at Evangelische Kirche in Salzburg, and will then leave for a month's ski holiday in Obertauern. They plan to remain in Europe for a year and will then return to the United States to make their permanent home near Lake Champlain, Vermont.

Judy and her sister, Linda, have been touring Europe since last Fall, accompanied by Sylvia Heinselman of Carmel and Tamerlane Williston of San Jose. She and Bill met in Palma, Majorca, during the Christmas holidays, and revealed their engagement last month. Linda Feek will be her sister's maid of honor at the wedding next month, while Sylvia and Tam will be bridesmaids.

Judy was born in Seattle and attended school in Bellvue, later graduating from Garfield High School in Seattle. She studied in the drama department of the University of Washington until her family moved to Carmel, and subsequently graduated from Monterey Peninsula College. Before leaving for Europe, she was employed at the Monterey County Bank here and was active in several little theatre groups.

Mr. Pilkenton is an author and former newspaperman, writing under the pen name Eric Jon Mark, and is currently in Europe revising his latest novel for publication. A graduate of the University of Illinois, he served as an officer in a tank battalion during the second World War and was three times wounded before his discharge. He returned to this country to complete work for his master's degree at Illinois, and later joined the staff of the Chicago Tribune. He has also done writing for magazines and for television.

Farleys Entertain COP Alumni

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Farley was the scene of a gathering last Sunday afternoon of some 50 College of the Pacific alumni living in the Monterey Bay Area. Dr. and Mrs. Farley, both former COP faculty members, retired here in January.

The guests ranged from James R. Zuck of Carmel of the class of 1897 to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Axup of Fort Ord of the class of 1951, and 43 others from intermediate classes and former faculty members. In addition to Mr. Zuck, those from Carmel were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. John Farr, Dr. and Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray, Charles Corbin, Mrs. Mabel Broaddus, Mr. and Mrs. Sumral Otrich, and Miss Zeala Wright. Also present were Dr. and Mrs. Farley's weekend houseguests, Dr. and Mrs. William J. Miller of Claremont, of the classes of 1900 and 1901. Representing the college were Mrs. Edith Moore, secretary in the COP alumni office, and Mrs. Edward Betz, wife of the dean of men.

Following the business meeting and dessert, the group presented the Farleys with two camellia plants for their garden. The next meeting of the local COP alumni will be a dinner meeting in June, with a speaker from the campus.

Studio Recital

Eleven piano students of Angie Machado took part in a studio recital last Sunday afternoon before 40 guests. The program consisted of solos as well as two-piano numbers.

Those participating were: Mary Buffington, Karen Stean, Kathleen Miller, Diane Shields, Rene Myette, Laurel Martin, Michael Brown, Stephanie Craviotto, Anthony and Arnold DaVigo and Kenneth Catalano.

Linne Bardarson Here

Enjoying a spate of reunions with old friends here was Linne Bardarson, whose six foot seven inch frame was conspicuous around town early this week.

Linne, who lives in Seattle and works as buyer and skipper with a small fleet of fishing boats, stopped off in Carmel in the course of a business trip to scout for a new boat. He spent several days here with Owen Greenan, a long time friend and former schoolmate in the Carmel High class of '48.

Linne's wife, Dorothy, has remained in Seattle to manage the business during his absence. They were married almost a year ago, and honeymooned here in Carmel last spring.

Linne is in San Pedro at present, but planned to stop by here again on his way home. This summer, he'll join the fishing fleet on its annual expedition to Alaska.

Linne is the son of Mrs. Gertrude Bardarson and the late Otto J. Bardarson, former superintendent of schools here. Mrs. Bardarson also makes her home in Seattle, but is presently on a business trip to Denver. The remaining members of the family are also on the move; Linne's brother, Baird, received his M.D. earlier this year, and is now in the process of moving to Southern California to take up an interneship at Los Angeles County Hospital. With him is his wife, Peg, and their twin daughters.

Leutzingers' Flying Trip

Mr. and Mrs. George Leutzinger are back on the Peninsula after a three-week air trip which took them from San Francisco to Illinois to Florida and home by way of the West Indies. First stop was Chicago, where Mr. Leutzinger attended a convention, then Miami, and finally, in rapid order, San Juan, Cuidad Trujillo, Montego Bay, Haiti, Havana and home. During their absence Mrs. Leutzinger's mother, Mrs. J. O. Wolcott of San Francisco, occupied their Pebble Beach home and looked out for the three young Leutzingers, Tom, Dick and Mary Jane.

International Wedding

Members of the German Consulate in San Francisco visited Carmel over the weekend to attend the wedding Saturday of Maupana Arioli and Dr. Ralf Zuleger of San Francisco. The bride a native Hawaiian, is head nurse at a Bay Area hospital, while Dr. Zuleger, a native of Germany, is a surgeon in San Francisco. Miss Arioli's mother, sister and brother came over from the Hawaiian Islands for the ceremony, which took place Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the chapel at Carmel Mission.

Preceding the ceremony, members of the wedding party attended a luncheon at June Simpson's. Later that evening the bride and groom were honored at a small party given by Mrs. Walter Schuster. Among the guests, in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Zuleger, were German Vice-Consul Hesse and Mrs. Hesse from San Francisco and Mrs. H. H. Schaps and Dr. Walter Lehmann of Carmel.

Demo Delegates to Fresno

Eight delegates from the Carmel Women's Democratic Club will attend the Democratic Council Convention in Fresno this weekend. Heading the group will be the club president, Mrs. James Campbell; others are Mrs. Paul Low, Miss Hettie Withy, Mrs. David Marshall, Mrs. Harriett Shields, Mrs. Hazel Dreiss and Mrs. Fred Farr. Purpose of the convention is to discuss a platform for 1955 and to elect officers for the coming year. Speakers will be Paul Butler, Democratic National Chairman, and former Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball.

A planning meeting on the forthcoming special county election was held by the Women's Democratic Club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maurice Stoney. The board also announced that a Silver Tea will be held on Friday, March 25, at the home of Mrs. Paul Low. The event will honor Democratic senatorial candidate Fred Farr, who will discuss his platform.

Rhea Diveley on Africa

Rhea Diveley will attempt to phrase a collective answer to some of the many questions she has been asked concerning her recent trip to Africa in an informal talk before the Carmel Woman's Club meeting Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Most popular questions about her trip, says Mrs. Diveley, have been why and how did she go to Africa in the first place, what did she do when she got there and how much did it cost, did she like the people, and how many lions did she see. She says she intends to draw her talk from the logbook which she kept from the time she left Carmel until her return three and a half months later, with special emphasis on her six-week photographic safari through 8000 miles of South Africa and Rhodesia.

Taking their cue from Mrs. Diveley, tea chairmen Mrs. Arthur Clay and Mrs. Fred Kane and decorations chairman Mrs. E. M. Beecher have planned the refreshments and flower arrangements around an African theme.

Lavinia Shallcross

Mrs. Lavinia Butler Shallcross, a Carmel resident for the past 18 years, was found dead Wednesday morning at her home on Lincoln and Seventh streets. Mrs. Shallcross, who would have been 80 years old this month, had apparently died in her sleep sometime Tuesday.

A native of St. Louis, Missouri, where she was born May 30, 1875, she was raised on her family's plantation near New Orleans. A talented musician, she studied piano both here and in Europe and prior to her marriage made numerous appearances as a concert pianist.

Following her marriage to Wyatt Shallcross, she and her husband made their home in St. Louis, where he operated a printing business. Mr. Shallcross died in 1936, and the following year his widow, along with her youngest daughter Mary Suzanne, established her home in Carmel.

Mrs. Shallcross, a direct descendant of Martha Washington, was active in the Carmel chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Her family home in St. Louis contained many effects which had originally belonged to General Washington, and which are now displayed at Mt. Vernon.

She leaves two sons, Wyatt Shallcross, Jr., of Los Angeles, and Lawrence Butler Shallcross of Arlington, Virginia; three daughters, Mrs. Donald Beere of Andresey, France, Mrs. Cyril Clemens of Kirkwood, Missouri, and Miss Eleanor Custis Shallcross of St. Louis; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services have been tentatively set for Saturday, with arrangements pending at the Mission Mortuary.

Myrtle B. Fraser

Mrs. Myrtle Brown Fraser, a local resident for 20 years, died Tuesday at her home on Mountain View and Torres streets.

A native of Canada, Mrs. Fraser was the wife of the late E. A. Fraser and made her home in San Francisco before moving to Carmel in 1935. She was a member and director of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel. During her years here, Mrs. Fraser was also an active member of the Carmel Woman's Club, as well as of the Women's Civic Club in San Francisco.

She leaves two sons, Sydney E. Fraser of Atherton and James R. Fraser of Marion, Massachusetts, and one daughter, Mrs. Florence Fraser Ludgate of Philadelphia. She also leaves several brothers and sisters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. One of her granddaughters, Mrs. Vittorio Ottanelli (Ann Gray Fraser), formerly lived in Carmel.

Funeral services will take place Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium in Pacific Grove, with the Paul Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in her memory are requested to do so in the form of donations to First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom and happiness will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" will include the account of Moses' call from God to free the children of Israel from bondage.

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (200: 4): "Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind."

The Golden Text is from John (6:63): "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing."

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 1440

PARKING DISTRICT NO. 1 OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA

WHEREAS, a petition in five sections (hereinafter referred to as "the petition") for formation of a parking district (hereinafter referred to as "the proposed district") pursuant to the Parking District Law of 1951, California Streets and Highways Code Sections 35100 et seq. (hereinafter referred to as "the Law"), was filed in the Office of the City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea (hereinafter referred to as "the City") on December 8, 1954; and the City Clerk thereafter examined the petition and on December 14, 1954, pursuant to Streets and Highways Code Section 35253, certified to the City Council that the petition was signed by the requisite number of qualified signers provided for in the Law; and the City Council thereupon, by minute order, duly adopted on December 14, 1954, approved the petition and directed Clayton B. Neill, Consulting Engineer, Carmel, California, and City Engineer of the City, a competent registered civil engineer, to make and file with the City Council a report pursuant to Streets and Highways Code Section 35257; and said Engineer has filed with the City Council his report dated February 24, 1955 (hereinafter referred to as "the Engineer's Report"); and

WHEREAS, paragraph 3 of the petition states with respect to the parking places proposed to be acquired by the proposed district:

"3. The parking places proposed to be acquired shall consist of Lots 1, 2, 3, 4 and 7 in Block 88, Map of Addition No. 5 to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, Lots 2 and 4 in Block 96, Lot 5 in Block 93, Lot 13 in Block 54, Lot 16 in Block 74, all of Map of Carmel-by-the-Sea, Monterey County, California."; and

WHEREAS, the Engineer's Report states with respect to the parking places proposed to be acquired by the proposed district:

(a) That Lots 1, 2, 3, 4 and 7 in Block 88, Addition No. 5, is the approved site of a Presbyterian Church and said property is no longer available; that the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross has filed an application for approval of Lots 2 and 4 in Block 96 as the site for its new building, and that either (1) the east one-half of said Lots 2 and 4 or (2) all of said Lot 2 will be available and would be adaptable for a parking area and that each of said areas contains 4,000 square feet;

(b) That Lot 5 in Block 93 is not available as recent alterations and improvements to the buildings (located thereon) have been completed under a City-approved permit;

(c) That Lot 13 in Block 54 is well suited for parking purposes and can be acquired;

(d) That Lot 16 in Block 74 is City-owned property and cannot be contributed to the proposed district as it may be required for expansion of municipal facilities, but will be made available to the proposed district for parking until required for such other purpose;

(e) That the City presently operates a parking lot on Lots 18 and 20 in Block 51 which should be included among the parking places to be acquired in the proposed district;

(f) That the purchase cost of the above enumerated lots (except Lot 16 in Block 74) which are available as parking places as aforesaid is approximately $78,000; and

WHEREAS, the Engineer's Report, to the extent that it recommends changes and modifications in the acquisitions to be made as set forth in the petition, constitutes a supplemental report in compliance with Streets and Highways Code Section 35269 as well as an original report; and

WHEREAS, paragraph 5 of the petition states with respect to the improvements to be made on the proposed parking places:

"5. The improvements proposed to be made on such proposed parking places shall consist of levelling and black topping such parking places. Such improvements are proposed to be paid for by the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea at large."; and

WHEREAS, the Engineer's Report states with respect to the improvements proposed to be made on the proposed parking places:

"Improvements proposed by the petition are leveling and surfacing, the cost to be borne by the city at large. Generally speaking, other improvements such as fencing, wheel stops, entrance and exit installations, stall markings and other appurtenant structures are necessary. It is understood that these improvements will be made by the city at large without cost to the district."; and

WHEREAS, the Engineer's Report, to the extent that it recommends changes and modifications in the improvements to be made as set forth in the petition, constitutes a supplemental report in compliance with Streets and Highways Code Section 35269 as well as an original report; and

WHEREAS, the City Council has considered the Engineer's Report and has determined to form a parking district pursuant to the Law for the purposes of the acquisitions and improvements set forth in the petition subject to changes and modifications in said acquisitions and improvements set forth in the Engineer's Report:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, as follows:

1. It is the intention of the City Council to form a parking district pursuant to the Parking District Law of 1951, Streets and Highways Code Section 35100 et seq., and to issue bonds in the amount and for the purposes hereinafter stated, pursuant to said Law.

2. The name of the proposed parking district shall be: "Parking District No. 1 of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea".

3. A description of the boundaries of the proposed district is as follows: The boundaries of the C-1 and C-2 Zones of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea as established by Ordinance No. 1 N.S. adopted by the City Council of the City on April 15, 1940, which said boundaries as set forth in said ordinance are hereby incorporated herein by reference and made a part hereof. The boundaries of said C-1 and C-2 zones and the boundaries of the proposed district are shown on map dated 27 Mar. 1940 entitled Official Zoning Map of Carmel-by-the-Sea attached to the Ordinance Code of the City on file in the office of the City Clerk, which map shall govern for all detail of the boundaries of the proposed district.

4. A general description of the acquisitions and improvements proposed by the petition and as changed and modified by the Engineer's Report and as hereby changed and modified by the City Council is as follows:

(a) The acquisition by the City for the proposed district for parking places of the east one-half of Lots 2 and 4 in Block 96, Lot 13 in Block 54 and Lots 18 and 20 in Block 51, and the use for the purposes of the proposed district until required for municipal purposes of the City of Lot 16 in Block 74 now owned by the City, all of said lots and blocks being as shown and designated on Map of Carmel-by-the-Sea, Monterey County, California, recorded in the office of the County Recorder of Monterey County, California, on March 7th, 1902, in Volume 1 of Maps, "Cities & Towns", at page 2 of Official Records.

(b) The improvement of all of said parking places so acquired and of said parking place owned by the City by leveling and surfacing where required and by the construction of fencing, wheel stops, entrance and exit installations, stall markings, and appurtenant structures on said parking places as required, all of said improvements to be made by the City and paid for from its general funds without cost to the proposed district.

5. The estimates of costs, expenses and revenues and the assessed value of the real property in the proposed district as set forth in the Engineer's Report are as follows:

(a) Estimates of Costs and Expenses:
Cost of acquisition of lands (except Lot 16 in Block 74 mentioned above)		$78,000
Cost of improvements (all to be paid by City from general funds)		None
Incidental expenses:
Legal	$1,500
Printing and advertising	650
Preparation of proceedings	700
Engineer's compensation	1,500
Incidental items	500
Total		4,850
Establishment of reserve fund for payment of bond principal and interest		2,150
Total Estimated Costs and Expenses		$85,000
(b) Estimates of annual revenues (computed on the basis of monthly rentals)		$3,000
(c) Assessed value of real property in proposed district		$2,700,970

6. The amount of money to be contributed by the City toward the cost and expense of said acquisitions and improvements as proposed by the petition and as changed and modified by the Engineer's Report is an amount equal to the cost of leveling and surfacing said parking places to be acquired and used as hereinabove set forth; and the additional amount of money to be contributed by the City toward the cost and expense of said improvements as set forth in the Engineer's Report is an amount equal to the cost of fencing, wheel stops, entrance and exit installations, stall markings, and other appurtenant structures on said parking places as required. The City Council hereby determines that the total amount of money to be contributed by the City toward the cost and expense of said improvements as proposed by the petition and as changed and modified by the Engineer's Report cannot now be estimated. The City Council hereby agrees that it will without cost to the proposed district pay from its general funds the actual cost of surfacing and leveling said parking places to be acquired and used as hereinabove set forth and the actual cost of fencing, wheel stops, entrance and exit installations, stall markings, and other appurtenant structures on said parking places as required.

7. An estimate of the amount of bonds of the proposed district proposed to be issued to make said acquisitions, to pay the incidental expenses in connection therewith and of the proceedings therefor, and to establish a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds, is $85,000 principal amount of bonds. The maximum number of years said bonds are to run shall be 20 years and the maximum rate of interest to be payable on said bonds shall be 6% per annum, payable semi-annually (except that the interest for the first year after the date of said bonds may be paid at the end of that year).

8. The limits, as stated in the petition, as to time and rate upon any ad valorem assessments which may be levied upon the taxable real property in the proposed district for the purposes permitted by the Parking District Law of 1951 are as follows: The limitation as to time shall be 20 years from the date of said bonds and the limitation as to rate shall be 25 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

9. The petition does not propose that the City will install and maintain or continue to maintain any parking meters for any period of time on any public ways within the proposed district, the net revenues from which will be allocated and pledged to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds.

10. Wednesday, the 20th day of April, 1955, at 8:00 P.M. (P.S.T.), at the meeting room of the City Council, City Hall, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, are hereby fixed as the time and place for a hearing on the proposed formation of the proposed district. Any person interested and objecting to the formation of the proposed district, the extent thereof, the inclusion of his property therein, the proposed acquisitions and improvements, the issuance of bonds, or to any other proposal in this Resolution of Intention, may file a written protest with the City Clerk at his office in the City Hall, City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, at any time prior to said time fixed for said hearing. Each such written protest shall contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify such property.

11. The Engineer's Report dated February 24, 1955, hereinabove referred to, is on file in the Office of the City Clerk in the City Hall, where it may be examined by any interested person.

12. The City Clerk is hereby directed to cause this Resolution of Intention to be published twice in The Carmel Pine Cone Cymbal, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City, the first publication of which shall be at least 30 days prior to the date of said hearing. The City Clerk is hereby further directed to mail, not less than 25 days prior to the date of said hearing, a printed copy of this Resolution of Intention, postage prepaid, to each person to whom real property in the proposed district is assessed as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the City, at his address as shown upon said roll, and to each person, whether owner in fee or having a lien upon, or a legal or equitable interest in, any real property within said proposed district, whose name and address and a designation of the real property in which he is interested are on file in the Office of the City Clerk.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea this 9th day of March, by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen, Lyon, Patnude, Chitwood and Whitaker.
NOES: Councilmen, none.
ABSENT: Councilmen, Smith.

ORDINANCE NO. 186 N.S.

AN ORDINANCE REPEALING THOSE PROVISIONS OF THE ORDINANCE CODE RELATING TO THE ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION OF AD VALOREM TAXES.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That the Ordinance Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea be amended by the repeal of the following sections thereof, except so far as they or any of them apply to property in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea which was on the date hereof delinquent in the payment of any taxes properly assessed, to-wit:

Sections 116 through 416, both inclusive.

Section 2. That the City Clerk of said City is hereby instructed to cause this ordinance to be published once in the CARMEL PINE CONE, the official newspaper of said City, within fifteen (15) days after its final passage and approval.

CERTIFICATION OF CITY CLERK

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of Ordinance No. 186 N.S. which was given its first reading at an Adjourned Meeting of the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea held on the 16th day of February 1955, and finally adopted at a Regular Meeting of the said Council on the 9th day of March, 1955.

I further certify that upon its passage the foregoing Ordinance was signed by the Mayor of said City and attested by the City Clerk thereof.

DATED this 11th day of March, 1955.

PETER MAWDSLEY,
City Clerk
Date of Publication: Mar. 17, 1955.

G.O.P. Party Split Is Avoided With Tickle Withdrawal

State for 12 years. It was from no personal gratification that I agreed to my candidacy. On the contrary, my decision was the result of many requests from both Republicans and Democrats in this County and all over the State, people who had confidence in my ability, based on my past record as your Senator, to best serve our party.

"Now my decision to bow out of the picture is for no other reason than to preserve harmony in the Republican ranks and to prevent further pressure being brought to bear on my friends and supporters in this Committee.

"I have always maintained that the party was more important than any one person. It is evident my opponent does not share those views, therefore, the result of the coming election will be his responsibility."

At the close of his remarks, the group gave the withdrawing ex-senator a hearty round of applause, which was lead by his previous opponent for Republican endorsement, former Speaker of the House, James Silliman.

George L. Tomlinson of Carmel then entered a resolution naming Tickle as the Doctors of Politics of Monterey County. The full resolution read: "Whereas, our venerable Senator Ed Tickle has once again proved to be the Grand Old Man of the Grand Old Party in Monterey County, by putting the future of the party before his personal feelings and

"Whereas, he has recognized that unity must prevail . . . and

"Whereas, he has diagnosed the cancer that almost circumscribed the original function of the committee,

"Therefore, be it resolved that he be awarded a special central committee's doctor's degree, the first of its kind ever to be awarded by any county central committee, and he should be hereafter referred to as the Doctor of Politics of Monterey County."

The resolution was adopted by a standing vote with more applause!

The meeting then adjourned again in record time.

This makes the special election in May, a man to man race between James Silliman, former assemblyman and Speaker of the House (a post which he vacated to make an unsuccessful try at the Lt. Governor's chair), and Carmel Attorney Frederick S. Farr, who was defeated in the Assembly race last November by Alan Pattee.

Today is the last day for candidates to file to have their names placed on the Special Election Ballot. There must be 388 valid signatures of registered voters to qualify as a candidate.

Silliman completed the formality last week, but Farr has not, as yet, submitted his papers.

Ex-Senator Tickle tells friends that he has already spent $500 in the early stages of the ruckus and that the money already donated to his campaign would be returned.

Ann Iradell

Ann Stith Iredell, a Carmel resident for the past seven years, died Wednesday at a local hospital following a brief illness. She was 35.

A native of Norfolk, Virginia, Miss Iredell had followed a career in nursing for a number of years. During the Second World War she served as an Army nurse, and since coming to Carmel had worked first at Peninsula Community Hospital and then for the past five years as office nurse for Dr. Russell Williams. She made her home at Dolores and Third streets.

She is survived by a sister, Martha Iredell, and a brother, James, both of Norfolk, and a cousin, Mrs. James P. McNeill of Carmel.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Paul Mortuary.

Street Department Cross-Walk Confusion Irks City Planners

shop, storage space and office building on the west side of Junipero between Fifth and Sixth. These plans had been approved in June of 1954 but Belvail had not proceeded with construction.

August Nieto presented sketches for a modification of a portion of the Doud Building front on San Carlos Street (formerly occupied by Wilder and Jones) and the planning commission approved. At its last meeting it had accepted Nieto's plans to remodel the building to accommodate a craft center.

K. H. Poffenberger's request for a ruling on an addition to his Tally Ho Inn at Sixth and Monte Verde was held over for further study. A use permit had been granted Poffenberger to extend his two commercial lots 30 feet to include a residence lot and house, the former home of Jimmy Hatlo. The Tally Ho Inn was built. Now Poffenberger wishes to add a second story to the residence building on the residence lot.

year's Del Monte Dog Show, since Ridgebacks are not yet officially recognized by the American Kennel Club. The Rhodesian Ridgeback Club of America was formed in 1950 with 33 members, and more are joining the group each year.

The origin of the breed remains a mystery, but it is believed that they stem from the Chinese Phu Quoc, which also has a ridge on its back.

ALLEN TATE WILL SPEAK AT HILL THEATRE

The Half-Century in Poetry will be the title of the talk Sunday by Allen Tate, who will speak at 2:00 o'clock at the Hill Theatre.

Known equally as a critic, author, poet, editor and teacher, Mr. Tate achieved particular note for his spirited defense of the expatriate poet Ezra Pound over the award to Pound of the 1948 Bollingen Prize. The controversy led to Tate's issuing a formal challenge to a duel to Karl Shapiro, leader of the anti-Pound faction.

Sunday's program, jointly sponsored by the Hill Theatre and the San Francisco State College Poetry Center, will also include Mr. Tate's reading of his own poetry.

Free Bach-Vivaldi String Orchestra Concert At Mission

Compositions by Bach and Vivaldi will be performed by a string orchestra under the direction of Dr. Harvey Marshall, chairman of the Music Department, Monterey Peninsula College, at 8:15 o'clock, Saturday evening at Carmel Mission.

The orchestra is composed of 22 members of an MPC evening class which was organized by Dr. Marshall for persons interested in the music of the Baroque period. In addition to 18 strings, the orchestra includes flutes, piano, and solo voice.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

The program consists of Johann Sebastian Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 4, soloists, Arden Ardaiz, violin; Jacque Radant, flute, and Patty Clapper, flute; Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 5, soloists, Helen Shutes, violin; Jacque Radant, flute, and Wade Parks, piano; Stabat Mater by Antonio Vivaldi, transcribed by Dr. Harvey Marshall for string orchestra and solo voice, soloist, Dominic DiMare, bass baritone; and Concerto Grosso in G Minor, Opus 3, No. 2 by Vivaldi, soloists, Mary Whitmer, violin; Franklin Young, violin, and Marjory Ogle, cello.

TO CONFER WITH PLANNER

At a joint meeting of the planning commission and the city council Tuesday night it was decided to invite Professional Planner Laurence Livingston, Jr., for another conference here. It was thought that further discussion with him would enable them to decide whether or not the city will retain him to work out a master plan.

Also agreed as a fundamental principle in all planning was the long-established policy of recognizing Carmel as a city of homes with business to play a subordinate role in the life of the community.

NO "PIG IN A POKE" AT PILOT'S MARKET

The one simple reason for this is that you know you are buying quality merchandise at competitive prices. Each item sold at Pilot's — whether groceries, vegetables, meats or "sundries" — is plainly marked. You know, for example, exactly what you are paying for a pound of coffee, a can of soup or a loaf of bread.

Moreover, everything in the store, which is on Ocean Avenue just above San Carlos, is guaranteed. If you are dissatisfied with any of your purchases, your money is cheerfully refunded, and no questions asked.

Walt Pilot has lived in Carmel for 33 years, and has been in business here for the past 25. All those who have had business dealings with him know his reputation for integrity and satisfaction.

Six friendly and helpful clerks are on hand at all times to help you with your marketing, to point out specials which may save you money on your weekly budget. The store is well-arranged, well-lighted and large enough for you to do your marketing in a leisurely manner with no crowding or hustle-bustle.

During his many years of being in business, Walt Pilot has arrived at a happy medium as far as prices are concerned. They are designed to meet the family budget and to provide a small and legitimate margin of profit for the store.

In the department called "sundries" there are many articles which might be termed "temper-savers." Suppose you break your coffee pot at the last minute, just before guests arrive, and you know all stores in town are closed. Well, Pilot's carries coffee pots and the reason this fact might save your temper and your husband's temper is that the store stays open until 9 o'clock each day in the week. In this department there are all sorts of cleaning gadgets, lunch boxes, kitchenware and picnic accessories, just to mention a few.

In the vegetable department, everything is fresh, crispy and the best available from our many sources of supply. If you buy a tomato here, you know it is the best possible tomato you can buy for this time of year. Incidentally, fresh spring asparagus may be found in our market now.

In other words, come into our cheerful, friendly, well-stocked store and see for yourselves that what is said above is no idle boast!
